

Solving the Problem of Not Having a Problem

looking for nails to slash with my Blockchain hammer

INTRODUCTION

Improve your critical thinking and strategy skills by gaining insights from multiple perspectives in the Toilet Bullrun workshop. It fosters a shared understanding of complex problems, identifies opportunities for system change, and helps navigate the complexities of our world. Prevent an “us vs them” mentality and promote opportunities for the community.

WHY?

This workshop aims to improve our understanding of our current system design by asking “why” and “what if” questions. It prioritizes progress over flawless product solutions and focuses on enhancing the system as a whole.

The Toilet Paper Bullrun

a workshop of thought-provoking questions

ACTIVITY

The workshop begins with storytelling and a system setup presentation. Thought-provoking questions will then test your understanding of the situation, and your answers will be time-stamped on colorful post-it notes. These notes will be placed on designated circles to create a visual representation of presented thoughts.

WHAT?

From problem-solution thinking towards opportunity thinking!

- Parameters
- Intent
- Design
- Feedback
- Paradigm shift

The Toilet Paper Bullrun

a workshop of thought-provoking questions

NECESSITIES

1. Steep cards sets
2. System opportunity circles
3. Leverage thinkers

HOW?

1. Discovery habits with STEEP cards
2. Opportunity thinking with circles
3. Leverage thinking with a group of critical thinkers

1. STEEP CARDS

2. SYSTEM OPPORTUNITY CIRCLES

3. LEVERAGE THINKERS

Solving the Problem of Not Having a Problem

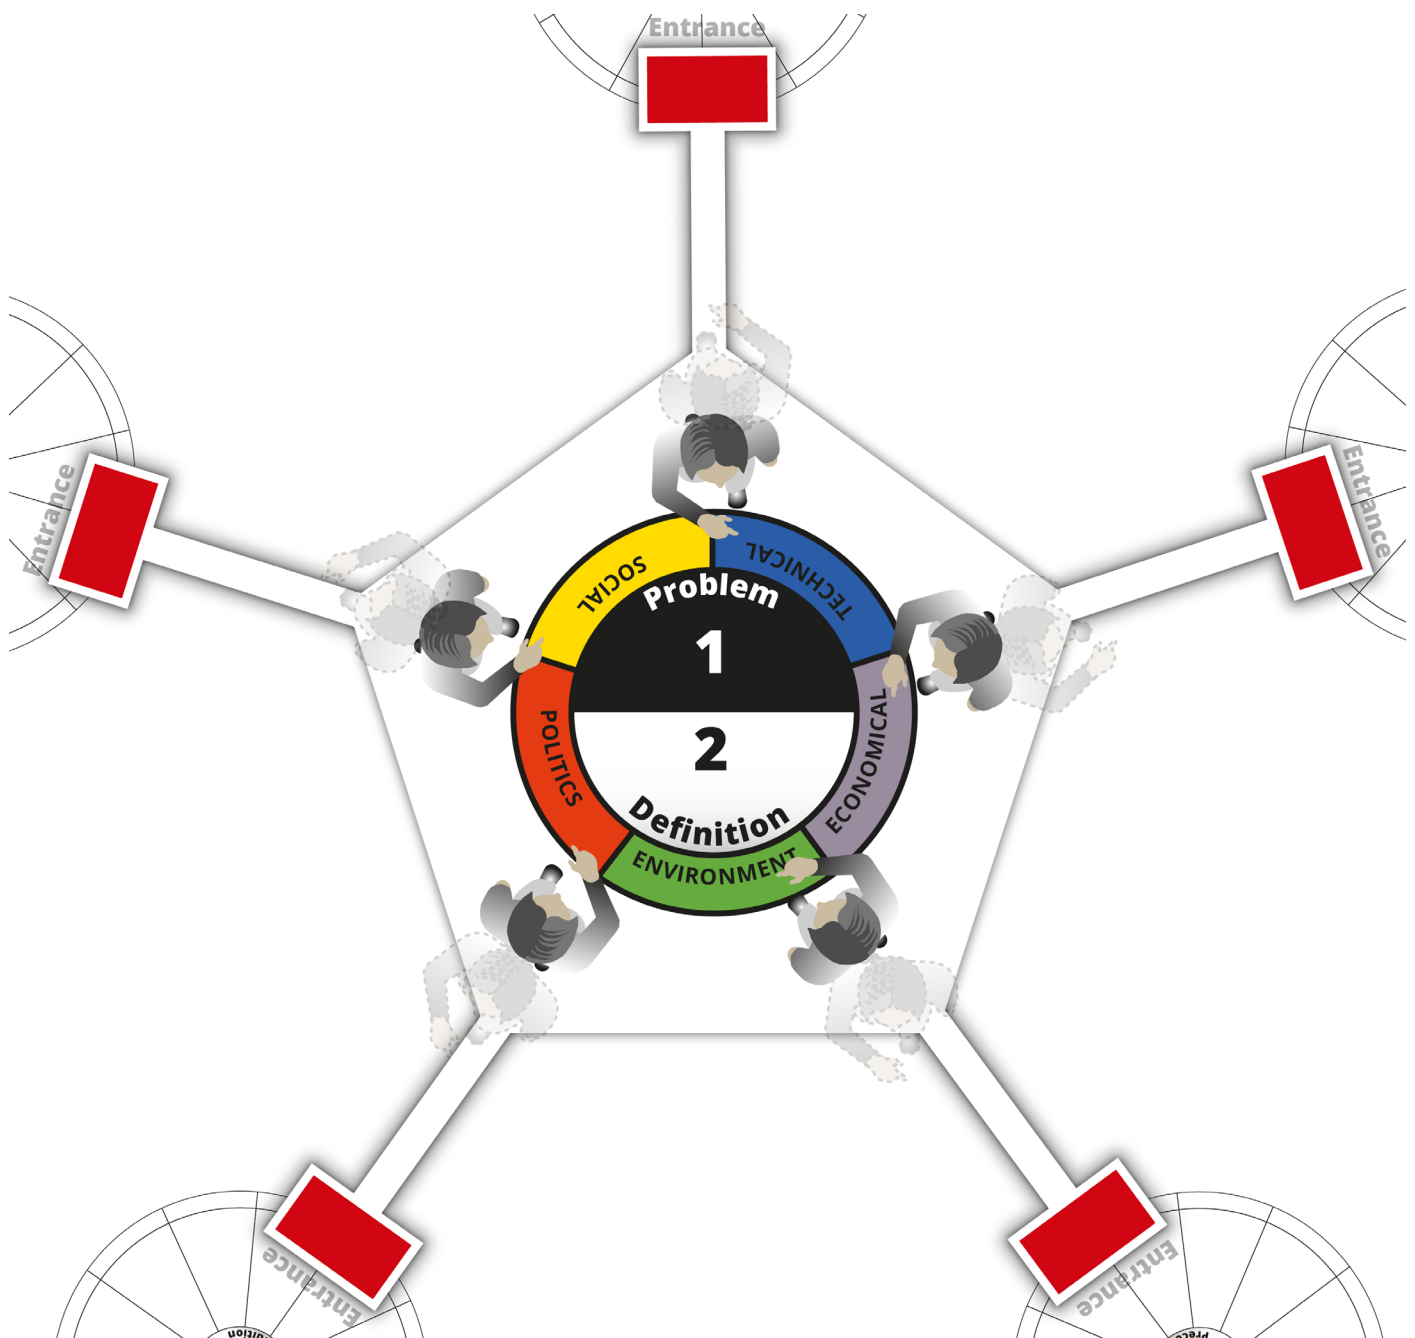

From problem-solution thinking towards opportunity thinking!

Instead of solely focusing on problem-solving...

Solving the Problem of Not Having a Problem

From problem-solution thinking towards opportunity thinking!

... shift your mindset towards creating positive change, and you'll elevate the status quo!